

Volunteers begin work on Niles Teen Center expansion project

Bridget Doyle/triblocal.com staff reporter
06/15/09

Niles Teen Center staff and volunteers from Home Depot began work on the expansion project on Thursday, June 11 at the Golf Mill Mall.

"The space we had before was simply not adequate," said Mark Williamson, Director and Youth Coordinator at the center. "We needed to serve the needs of the kids."

The new addition is slated to become a game room, opening up space in the older part of the center for a computer lab and space to do homework. The newly expanded Niles Teen Center is scheduled for a grand opening in late August or early September.

Mark Williamson, Director and Youth Coordinator of the Niles Teen Center also partook in painting the door of the newly expanded room.

Volunteers were responsible for all stages of the painting process, including edging and detailing the new room.

Home Depot volunteers help pour paint in order to begin paint

The Niles Teen Center is located in the Golf Mill Mall.