The Niles Police Announce New Animal Control Program

Niles, IL – The Niles Police Department has implemented the Nuisance Wildlife Abatement Program (NWAP), as warmer weather approaches so does the appearance of wildlife in and around a resident's property. Through our Animal Control Officer Janie Copley, residents are encouraged to schedule an abatement inspection of their property. During this free inspection, Animal Control Officer Copley will evaluate the exterior of your property, to identify potential risk areas for wildlife to reside as well as to provide tips to reduce wildlife's presence around your property.

The wildlife that residents most often complain about are Skunks, Raccoons and Possums. They bring with them the risk of rabies and distemper, which can potentially impact your family pet. By having this free inspection done, you are gaining valuable information to reduce the impact of wildlife on your property. In addition, to helping protect your family pets, as well as your neighbor's pets.

To schedule a free inspection please call Animal Control Officer Janie Copley at 847-588-6508
